

EDITORIAL NOTE VOLUME 14

In 2007, Ciencias Psicológicas was born as a scientific journal in psychology and frontier areas, with all the enthusiasm of a group of psychology academics from Uruguay and the support of colleagues from other universities, among whom we would like to remember Prof. Dr. Agustín Romero Medina -Editorial Director of the prestigious Anales de Psicología of the University of Murcia-. Much help, work, and in principle, strive to have good articles. All to be learned.

Thirteen years have passed, 28 uninterrupted numbers, different evaluations of the bases. Today Psychological Sciences is a bilingual and trilingual publication in the abstracts, always English and Spanish or Portuguese; with a very high composition of original research articles and made up of more than 70% by collaborations of authors from abroad, making it more and more a Latin American psychology journal, with a presence from Spain and Portugal.

Ciencias Psicológicas has already entered another phase, with all the strength provided by the new director Prof. Dra. Cecilia Cracco, who has the knowledge and passion that must be put into these endeavors. These are good times to come.

This editorial note reflects the passage from one stage to another, with the expressions of the new director. Beforehand, we both want to make a very special mention to who has been one of the pillars of the journal, Lic. Lilian Rué, who has worked on each article, each graph, each line, from the beginning, with great dedication and expertise. An absence that will be felt, but which remains with her teachings of good work.

The vision, the tireless work and the quality of the editorial management carried out by the previous director, Dra. Lilián R. Daset, allow to project new challenges: improve aspects of management -both in its support on the digital platform, as in its times-, enhance the dissemination of published works, enter new bases. None of this would be possible if we did not have the trust of the authors who submit their work. In this sense, we are happy to close Volume 14 with a total of 37 works belonging to different Latin American countries.

In this 2020 in which the Covid-19 pandemic has hit the region so hard, we want to wish our authors, referees and readers a Peaceful Christmas that allows us, despite everything, to thank and renew our dreams for the year 2021.

Dra. Lilián R. Daset

Dra. Cecilia Cracco

This work is under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License